Beloved | Lauren Wright Pittman | A Sanctified Art LLC | sanctifiedart.org

“This image offers a snapshot of Jesus right before he steps into his calling, on the threshold of spectacular affirmation. He is completely suspended, embraced, and upheld by the waters of baptism. The water’s surface is choppy. The future is unknown and precarious. ... Despite what is to come, Jesus reaches toward the surface, breaks the plain of the water and inhales air ... the breath of life.

This is what trusting your belovedness feels like – muscles and bones relieved of gravity’s burden, serenity, weightlessness, oneness with creation, and the warmth of God’s love permeating every cell of your body and every corner of your soul.” – Rev. Lauren Wright Pittman

You are intentionally, meticulously, and lovingly created by a God who chose to be born into humanity, into the mess and soil and sweat and joys and sorrows of people just like you. How do you feel about that idea? What are the implications?

Do you ever struggle to feel beloved? Why? What keeps you from trusting in your belovedness?

The Bravest Thing We Can Do

Prayer by Rev. Sarah Speed
A Sanctified Art LLC | sanctifiedart.org

*Trust your belovedness.
Let it be a protest,
an act of resistance,
a song of celebration.
Trust your belovedness in a world
that is rarely satisfied.
Wear it like a badge of honor.
Speak it as confidently as your last name.
Tattoo it to your heart.
When outside forces
chip away at your sense of self,
when life asks you
to hand over the keys,
remember the water.
Remember creation.
Remember how it was good,
so very good.
Let that truth hum through your veins.
Sing it so loud
that it drowns out
the weariness of the world,
for the bravest thing we can ever do
is trust that we belong here.*
