FAMILY – PART 2

COLOSSIANS 3:12-17 ¹² As God's chosen ones, holy and beloved, clothe yourselves with compassion, kindness, humility, meekness, and patience. ¹³ Bear with one another and, if anyone has a complaint against another, forgive each other; just as the Lord has forgiven you, so you also must forgive. ¹⁴ Above all, clothe yourselves with love, which binds everything together in perfect harmony. ¹⁵ And let the peace of Christ rule in your hearts, to which indeed you were called in the one body. And be thankful. ¹⁶ Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly; teach and admonish one another in all wisdom; and with gratitude in your hearts sing psalms, hymns, and spiritual songs to God. ¹⁷ And whatever you do, in word or deed, do everything in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through him.

If you were raised to be tough and independent, does this sound a little crazy?
What does it mean to clothe yourself with compassion, kindness, humility, meekness and patience?
In our society, does covering yourself particularly in humility and meekness seem safe right now?

What do you lose when you move through the world like Paul describes in verse 12? What do you gain?

Is forgiveness as easy as it sounds in verse 13? Is there anyone in your life that feels unforgivable?
Have you ever done something that you thought was unforgivable? What happened next?

In your experience, is love perfect? Is it harmonious all the time?
Does the presence of love affect your ability to forgive?
Is Paul talking about some sort of an emotional utopia here, or something else?

How does gratitude change everything? Do you think there's any wound that gratitude can't soften?

How does this reading intersect with shalom – with creating a family that is flourishing, peace-filled and whole?

Think of Ted Lasso's famously mis-attributed line in the dart scene: "Be curious. Not judgmental."
Is there some glimmer of wisdom in those simple words that can help us live into this scripture lesson and our church family?

How does our ability to work together – to show up for each other and listen – impact our mission and ministry?
Is there anything we can resolve by sitting down together and showing genuine curiosity about each others' thoughts or actions instead of jumping to straight to judgment?
